Ivan Capdevila, director of ERF, took part in the 1st Energy Week in Lliçà de Vall [1] with a presentation focused on the energy transition for companies. During his presentation, Capdevila described the different methodologies to monitor the energy consumption of companies; a key action to determine actions that promote savings both in production processes and in the usual uses of infrastructures.

The conference also included the participation of representatives of the Catalan Energy Institute (ICAEN), the Barcelona Provincial Council, and the company Km0 Energy.
